

STATE PLANS WELFARE WORK

Nine-Million Dollar Hospital Improvement Program All Set for Ohio.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 26.—The Ohio Welfare Department has $2,000,000 in its kick, plans all fixed for $9,000,000 worth of building and urgent needs for new hospital space, but the chances are that only a comparatively few shovelfuls of dirt will be turned before spring.

Director Frazier Reams and John W. Wadner, business manager, pointed to the uncertainty of the market for materials and the apparent continuation of the wartime labor shortages and would promise definitely to get work started on these three projects:

- 1—The $331,000 remodeling and expansion of the Mount Vernon hospital for care of mental patients suffering also from tuberculosis. Work already has started, with additional funds released after the bids ran over $875,000 estimate.
- 2—The $119,000 new dormitory for the girls' industrial school at Delaware, for which the board of control released funds from the last legislature's $23,000,000 welfare appropriation this week.
- 3—Duplex apartment buildings for doctors at each of the state hospitals, for which $700,000 has been appropriated.

A new dairy barn for the hospital epileptics at Gallipolis was scheduled to be built on a flood-proof site at an estimated cost of $50,000, but bids ran $13,000 over and the project hinges on whether the board of control will release the extra money.

Reams described the physicians' apartments as the No. 1 project to get under way before the snow flies.

Three units are planned at the Massillon State hospital and two each at institutions at Athens, Lima and Apple Creek.

EX-CONVICT SOUGHT IN LORAIN SLAYING

By The Associated Press
LORAIN, O., Oct. 26.—Police Chief Theodore Walker today signed a warrant for the arrest of a Lorain factory worker, on charge of first degree murder in the slaying Wednesday of Mrs. Helen Duffield, 24-year-old wife of a Navy radarman in the Pacific.

Police Detective Vernon Smith said the search for the suspect centered about Cleveland after police learned the factory worker boarded a bus for the city 12 hours after the murder was committed. The detective said the hunted man had telephoned a Lorain girl upon his arrival.

Smith said a nationwide alarm has been sent out for the suspect, whom they described as five feet 10 inches tall, weighing about 185 pounds, barrel chested with brown wavy hair, deep cheek dimples and a large prominent nose.

Although admitting lack of any knowledge of a motive for the shooting, detectives said considerable circumstantial evidence pointed to the steel worker, who once served a term in the Ohio penitentiary for auto theft, has been uncovered.

Police said the man's landlady reported he was away from home at the time of the killing and she identified a blood-stained light tan overcoat found near the victim's body as his. The man owned a .25-caliber automatic, the type of weapon used in the shooting, officers added.

The landlady told police the man returned to his room about 8:30 a. m. yesterday morning and left two hours later carrying two suitcases and a large paper-wrapped package. A pair of wet, muddy shoes were found in his room.

Mrs. Duffield's body, with four bullet holes in the head, neck and chest, was found Wednesday night in a water-filled ditch in nearby Sheffield. Close by, the motorist said, was the Lorraine stenographer's automobile.

At least four persons saw her shot to death at California and East Erie avenues, a thickly-populated and heavily traveled section of Lorain. All said the killer accosted his victim as she stepped into her car after leaving a barbecue restaurant about 10 p. m.

They said the man climbed into the car with her, and then the shots rang out. The slayer then ran around the car, pushed the woman from behind the steering wheel, and drove away. Pursuers failed to keep up with the fleeing slayer.

NEW MODEL FORD ON DISPLAY HERE

1946 Two-Door Sedan Arrives at Agency.

The first new Ford automobile to be shipped into Marion county since 1942 arrived at the McKinney Motor Sales, Ford and Mercury dealers, 247 North Main street, at 9:30 a. m. today and was immediately put into the show window for Marionites to see.

The new 1946 car is a two-door sedan, 100-horsepower, super deluxe model of a metallic grey finish. A minor dent in the top was being straightened out. It had been caused when the trailer-carrier apparently tried to go under a viaduct after leaving the factory and didn't quite make it. Francis McKinney, dealer, said today.

Prices haven't been released yet so it isn't known when the new models will actually be offered for sale. The entire front of the 1946 model is changed and 38 changes have been made in the motor and chassis. Inside trim of the new Fords are also different.

In the opinion of representatives of the various agencies in the Marion Community Foundation, Inc., the coming year and those following will find heavier demands on their facilities and resources. Captain Mary Nisiewicz of the Salvation Army said requests are received daily from service men enroute home, for lodging, meals or both. Funds allocated to all agencies have been pared to a minimum for the coming year, but the workers and through them the citizens of the community, were given the assurance that the work of these agencies would continue along the same high standard of past years insofar as it is possible.

The talks, added up in general to these plain facts: The boys and girls who fought the battles for us on the home front didn't make money; our city is intact but most of the cities of Europe and the Pacific are not, and therefore we have a responsibility; there is a duty and obligation on the boys and girls still carrying on in the foreign front; home agencies need support now; contributions and pledges received between now and the next report meeting, Thursday, Nov. 1, will keep the community's record of civic accomplishment up to its high standard and Marion in the forefront of the nation's war-supporting cities.

Jewish Home in Palestine Rated Dangerous Issue

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the most dangerous of the many crises which are threatening international peace is that growing out of the dispute over whether unrestricted Jewish immigration should be permitted into Palestine.

This of course involves the historic question of the establishment of a Jewish national home in the Holy Land. A host of homeless refugees in Europe, the Hitlerian storm-troopers are crying for a raising of the barriers. Arabs in Palestine and in neighboring countries are offering bitter opposition—a n of threats of armed strife are in the air.

The situation demands quick D. Mackenzie adjustment, but it bristles with complications. The British government, which holds the mandate for Palestine, is trying to handle this hot potato, and the matter has been the subject of conversations between London and Washington. There has been a growing feeling in England that the United States should share in the responsibility of trying to reach a solution.

Statement Expected
Well informed circles are expecting the British government to make a statement in the immediate future. Whether this will relate to the exchanges with Washington remains to be seen.

This column yesterday suggested that the Japanese revolt against Dutch rule, and the native rebellion in French-Indo China, might well be taken up by the new world security organization for settlement. The question of self-determination is a logical one to come before all the United Nations. There naturally would have to be mediation by some country, to halt the fighting and preserve the status quo, pending the time when the security organization gets into full action.

Why shouldn't a similar program be applied to the Palestine difficulty? Certainly there could be no better time, before which to lay the case than the full assembly of the new League of Nations. As a matter of fact, any matter affecting the Palestine mandate naturally would fall to the security organization as successor to the League of Nations which originally granted the mandate to Britain.

JAPAN

This idea doesn't involve any suggestion that Britain be asked to surrender the mandate. The point is that the problem of the Jewish national home has got too big and complicated for any one country to handle. Indeed, it is doubtful if the decision of any single country would be accepted by both sides to the controversy.

Should it be decided that the question should come before the general assembly of the United Nations as soon as that body is established, then the urgent need how would be for mediation to preserve the status quo until the assembly meets. Who would mediate? Perhaps we shall have an answer to that when we get the expected British statement.

Dr. Ley, One of Accused Nazis, SOYBEAN CROP HARVEST LATE

Kills Himself in Nuernberg Cell

By The Associated Press
NUERNBERG, Oct. 26.—Bull-necked, lugubrious Dr. Robert Ley, one-time luxury loving chief of Hitler's Labor Front, hanged himself in his cell last night at the Nuernberg jail, where he was awaiting trial as a war criminal.

Col. John Harlan Amen, interrogation chief, disclosed today Ley had left a document entitled "My Political Testament," which Amen said was a "terrible apology for his anti-Semitism." The message was directed to "my German people."

Ley also left two other documents, prepared in his cell. One was a will, addressed to his children; the other a long discourse directed to his three wives. A spokesman said he called upon his last wife not to remarry, "because I know you love only me."

May Change Trial

His suicide may mean major changes in preparations for the trial of the 22 other leading Nazis incarcerated there. With the opening of the trial just 24 days away, Ley's death was believed to exclude the use of certain documents with high value as evidence, pertaining only to the ex-labor boss.

The official announcement said the body was discovered by a sentinel who became suspicious when Ley remained seated motionless in his cell for more than two minutes.

"The sentinel called the prisoner by name and received no answer," the announcement said. "They (the guard and the corporal of the guard) entered the cell and discovered Ley was on the toilet seat. His mouth was stuffed with rags torn from his underwear. Around his neck was the hemmed edge of a towel, fastened to the top of the flush pipe of the toilet. The guard called the prisoner officer, who cut the prisoner down."

Had Planned Well

Ley had wet the towel to make sure the knot would not slip, and had drawn the noose tight when he seated himself. The guard, who looked into the cell every 30 seconds, could see only the prisoner's knees. Apparently Ley had planned his suicide long and carefully.

The 22 other top-ranking Nazi defendants were not informed of Ley's death. His body was removed to the prison morgue.

He was buried today in an unmarked grave.

A fanatic Nazi, Ley controlled 95 per cent of all the gainfully employed persons in the Reich. In his capacity as labor chief Ley obliterated labor unions ruthlessly. He created the "Strength through Joy" movement, and often lectured women on the advisability of bearing illegitimate children. He also battled the Catholic church.

SOYBEAN CROP HARVEST LATE

Potential $1,648,000 Income for Farmers if Weather Is Favorable.

Marion county farmers have a potential income from this year's soybean crop of $1,648,000. Realization of this figure, however, will depend on whether weather conditions permit completion of the harvest, now estimated to be three weeks behind schedule.

Arthur Smith, Marion county agricultural extension agent, said today that the bean yield per acre this year would be about 29 bushels an acre, slightly below the county average, but better than last year's average of 15 bushels.

Average Estimate

Although complete reports on this year's acreage have not been received by the farm agent's office, Mr. Smith said it would approximate last year's planting of 41,200 acres.

Farmers are receiving $2.04 a bushel for No. 2 yellow beans. Lateness of the harvest is due to bad weather early in October. Grain dealers here said. A few days of favorable weather more than a week ago enabled farmers to speed up harvest operations. Rain this week again slowed operations and up to today few beans had been taken from fields in the county.

Good Quality Crop

Dealers say the quality of the crop is fairly good, with moisture content low, despite the unfavorable weather.

September and October rains also delayed wheat sowing, Mr. Smith said.

The corn crop, late because of wet weather in planting time last spring, largely recovered during the summer and is turning out an average yield, Mr. Smith said.

Harding Noses Out Ashland Gridders 14-12 for Season's First Victory

Lee's Kicking, Foe's Fumbling Spells Win for Prexies.

By BILL COULTER

It finally happened. The Harding Presidents came through for their first victory of the season last night, as they edged out a determined Ashland eleven by a 14-12 margin, in front of about 2,500 people at the Ashland College Field. It was Harding's first win in seven games.

Both teams scored the same number of touchdowns but Dave Lee spelled doom for the A's by adding both of Harding's extra points as the result of placekicks. Another factor aiding the Prexies was the Ashland fumbles. The pigskin managed to free itself from the hands of Ashland boys five times. Harding was the first to score and this came in the initial period when Jerry Richie drove over from about two yards out. Lee responded by adding the conversion.

Seconds later, in the same quarter, Ashland bounced right back to score when Glaser cut through the Harding team for a touchdown from the Prexie 22. The A's attempt for conversion failed and Harding grabbed the lead at the end of the first period 7-6. Ashland forged ahead early in the second stanza when Miller punted to Drebus for a ten-yard score. The A's again failed to convert and the half ended with Ashland out in front 12-7.

Come from Behind

Harding came out after the half and tallied in the third frame when Richie went through center for eight yards and the second President score of the evening. Lee kept his state clean for the evening by booting the extra point for Harding. Neither team was able to push across a marker in the final canto.

The Prexies didn't waste a moment in closing the double chalk marks in the first quarter. Harding kicked to Ashland to open the game. On the very next play, Moore of Ashland carried the ball all the way to the Harding 46-yard line before Weber brought him to earth. However, Ashland could not advance far enough for a first down and attempted a pass which Ralph Weber snaggled for Harding on his own 35 and ran back to the Ashland 39. In a few plays, Dick Taylor threw a pass completed to Bud England and England went to the Ashland four-yard stripe.

Richie Takes It Over

Taylor and Dick Huddle then drove it to the two where Jerry Richie crashed through for the first score of the night. Lee booted the ball squarely between the uprights but Ashland drew a five-yard penalty on the play. However, Lee proved the first time wasn't merely an accident and proceeded to repeat his previous performance placing the Prexies ahead 7-0.

During the half the Ashland band performed with a Halloween show. The 96-piece aggregation formed a large pumpkin face in the middle of the field. The band then played both the Harding and Ashland school Alma Mater.

Harding took the lead in the third quarter, never to relinquish it. It was in this stanza that Ashland fumbled three times with

GEORGE CLARK, Duke University; BYRON GILROY, University of Texas; GENE ROSSIDES, Columbia University.

The All-America selectors are in for a lot of headaches naming the four top backs this season. Every Saturday sees another ball carrier or passer hit the headlines with scintillating play. The country is loaded with football stars. Take the three boys pictured here: George Clark of Duke University, Byron Gilroy of Texas and Gene Rossides of Columbia. They've been terrific in every game. Clark really reached the heights against Wake Forest when he tipped off touchdown runs of 63, 58 and 17 yards to personally lead the Blue Devils to victory. Gilroy, who weighs only 138 pounds, has been a giant for Texas in every game. He's also a demon on the defense, as Oklahoma found out. Rossides had a hand in all of Columbia's tallies when the lions roared over Yale. The New Yorker is a triple-threat comparable to Sid Luckman, Columbia's greatest back.

the Prexies recovering each time. Harding punted and the ball eluded the hands of the would-be Ashland receiver on the Ashland 46 where Don Zeisler pounced on the ball for Harding. The Presidents were forced to kick again and again. Ashland fumbled with Harding recovering this time on the A's 16. Richie and Coss took the ball to the Ashland eight but here Harding lost the ball. Ashland, still suffering from that rather sudden attack of fumbleitis, fumbled and Harding recovered, this time on the Ashland 12. Jim Coss then drove the eight-yard line. On the next play, Jerry Richie went over for the second time and Lee's boot again cleared the crossbar between the uprights placing the Prexies out in front 14-12.

Scoreless Period

In the final period, there was a good deal of changing possession of the ball. Harding's main objective was to keep the ball so that Ashland could not obtain possession and score. That was exactly what the Presidents did. However Ashland made a threat when Taylor's punt was blocked with Ashland recovering on the Harding 15. On the next play, Holliday and Richie seeped through to nab Moore for a 10-yard loss. Miller then threw a pass to Moore which was right in his hands but he fumbled it and a Harding man touched the ball before it rolled out of bounds with the ball going over to Harding. After the Prexies could not advance the ball much farther, Taylor punted. As the A's came out of the huddle and ready to start their next play the gun sounded ending the game. However Ashland, according to rules, was allowed to complete the play. They attempted one final pass which was completed but a Harding boy immediately brought the receiver down.

Scoring: Harding—Richie (2); Ashland—F. Glaser, Drebus; Point after touchdown, Lee (2).

Substitutions: Harding—Short, Hoffman, Stroble, Russell, Smith, Huddle, Hill; Ashland—Mercer, M. Glaser, Hurst.

Officials—McCaskey (Lorain), Hamblin (Sandusky), Smith (Elvira).

OHIO STATE'S TITLE Upper Sandusky Blanks Galion CHANCES RESTING ON MINNESOTA BATTLE

Unbeaten Rams Make It 20-0 Over Northern Ohio League Grid Rival.

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 24.—The snappy, up-and-coming Upper Sandusky Rams chalked up another victory Thursday night under the House lights here, by defeating Galion High's Tiger football grid-ders, 20 to 0. An ideal football night, local fans and visitors turned out in big numbers. The tilt was considered one of the most important in the Northern Ohio league.

Neither team scored in the first quarter, but in the first minute of the second quarter McQuire fumbled and Schnelker recovered on Galion's 13, with Smalley hitting the center of the line for seven yards and touchdown. Houser made the extra point on a pass. Four minutes later, Smalley again hit center for two yards and a touchdown after McQuire's punt to Smalley on Galion's 41, the Rams marching 41 yards. Early in the last quarter, Smalley passed to Basic for 34 yards and a touchdown. Houser made the extra point in the same method as his COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24.—Ohio State's football Bucks steamed into Minneapolis today and a do-or-die battle with Bernie Bierman's Golden Gophers of Minnesota.

The thinnest college grid program in Ohio in weeks made it sure Ohioans by the thousands would have their ears tuned to the radio tomorrow to hear whether the Bucks can do a comeback from their stunning defeat by Purdue a week ago. If they lose their Western Conference championship hopes are gone.

When the Bucks left Columbus yesterday Coach Carroll Widows still doubted that Dick Fisher and Paul Sarringhaus would be able to start the game against the Gophers and his worries were increased by injuries to Jack Lininger and Steve O'Dea, the No. 1 and No. 2 centers.

The Ohio State-Minnesota game was one of only nine on the week-end Ohio program and only six of those were to be played with the Buckeye borders.

Tonight's program was topped by Miami against Miami in what already is being called the "Confusion Bowl Game." It was Miami of Oxford, O., against Miami of Miami, Fla., at Miami. The Ohio Miami was seeking its sixth straight triumph of the season. The Friday night schedule also called for a tilt between crippled Wooster and Baldwin-Wallace, one of the better elevens in the Ohio conference.

The big show within Ohio tomorrow will be Kentucky's clash with Cincinnati at Cincinnati. The Kentuckians squeaked out a victory over the Bearcats earlier in the season and rated as slight favorites to do it again.

There were three Ohio conference games on the Saturday program. One matched unbeaten, untied and unscathed upon Capital against Heidelberg. Another pitted Ashland against Muskingum and the third was Kenyon vs. Wittenberg in a battle between two teams which still haven't won a game.

Rio Grande was paired against Bluffton and Wilberforce against Tennessee State in the other games.

CANTON, O., Oct. 24.—Canton Central Catholic High school forfeited its only football victory this year after the school discovered eight players on the team were ineligible. Coach Del Halpin said today. The Crusaders' lone triumph was registered over North Canton.

ARRESTED IN DELAWARE

DELAWARE, O., Oct. 24.—James A. Campbell, 35, an escaped prisoner of Okla. county, Fla., was picked up by sheriff's deputies and city police at a filling station operated by James Dunlap on Route 42, Tuesday afternoon. He is being held in the county jail here for Florida authorities.

Campbell was sentenced on a manslaughter charge to 20 years imprisonment, it was reported. After a freedom of four years, Campbell was arrested when he returned here after a brief visit to Florida.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24.—The Ohio State-Southern California football rivalry is slated to be resumed next fall. The dope has it the Bucks will be in Los Angeles Oct. 5... Miami university wanted to fly to Miami, Fla., for its football game with the University of Miami (Fla.) tonight but couldn't make the necessary arrangements.

Oberlin gave varsity letters and gold footballs to 29 members of its undefeated football team. All 29 were members of the V-12 unit—five sailors and 24 marines—which explains rather adequately why the Yeomen wanted to get their football playing done before the V-12 deadline of Nov. 1... In eight games the Yeomen gained 1,735 net yards by rushing to 756 for their opponents and 552 yards by passing to 393 for their foes...

Former Marionite Stars with Ashland

Dick Stauffer, center of the Ashland High school football team who caused Harding grid-ders plenty of trouble in the game at Ashland last night, is a former Marion boy.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stauffer, who moved to Ashland about four years ago. Mr. Stauffer formerly was clerk of the Marion municipal court.

Stauffer is a junior in Ashland High school. He was the backbone of the Ashland defense, stopping Harding ball carriers time after time at the line of scrimmage and frequently breaking through to throw them for losses. Henry Stauffer starred with the hilly country, follow closely Marion high school teams more than 20 years ago.

Upper Sandusky 9th Strongest in State in New Grid Rating

Upper Sandusky High school's unbeaten and untied Rams are listed the ninth scholastic team in the state in a new system of ratings worked out by the Scholastic Sports Institute at New York.

Newark's powerhouse is rated first under the system, which was devised by Dick Dunkel, formerly a member of The Star's sports staff and now famed as a scientific sports forecaster.

Under the Dunkel system, teams set their own ratings by scoring margins they establish above or below the ratings of their opponents.

The well-bunched first 20 teams in order in Ohio are as follows:

Newark 72.5, Cathedral Latin, Cleveland 70.1, Warren 70.1, Massillon 69.8, McKinley, Canton 69. STATE TO DEVELOP REFUGE FOR GEESE

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25 — Thousands of wild geese that every year fly over northern Ohio soon will be able to easily spot the 2,200-acre wild life refuge in Erie county.

The conservation commission voted yesterday to develop the refuge and said one of the first jobs undertaken would be removal of overhanging cottonwood trees that hide the grounds.

The project also includes construction of an observation tower for visitors to watch the geese as they rest.

The commission also announced these other decisions.

1 Set Dec 13 for the annual public fish hearing.

2 Adopted a policy establishing belts of public land at least 300 feet around all recreational lakes built and restricting commercial enterprises from the belts.

3 Voted to help the Ohio Grange erect a memorial at the entrance to a shelter house at East Harbor honoring the late Walter Kirk, Grange master.

4 Appropriated $2,500 for increasing game cover at Rest Haven, $3,000 to develop the 1,200-acre Waterloo game preserve and $4,500 for the 2,072-acre Trimble game preserve, both in Athens county; $6,000 for the Brush Creek wild life restoration unit of 1,629 acres in Jefferson county; and $2,000 for the 1,457-acre Willard marsh refuge in Huron county.

SCIENTISTS OPPOSE ATOM BOMB SECRECY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 — Two scientists yesterday opposed clamping secrecy on atomic energy and nuclear physics, arguing such a step would be fatal to this country's national security.

Dr. Henry Dew Smyth, Princeton university physicist, put it this way in testimony to a joint senate military-commerce subcommittee considering legislation to create a National Science foundation.

"Secrecy in nuclear physics will smother the hope of progress not only in that science but in all the other sciences. Continued secrecy means national scientific suicide. It also means international scientific isolation, which is equally fatal to our progress."

Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, asked the senators to suppose that at the time the automotive engine was invented the War Department had decided it might have military uses and had imposed secrecy on study of high octane fuels, thermodynamics and

LaRue 6-Man Team Needs Bloomdale 28-20

LaRue found themselves in trouble with a poor pass defense and finished the first half on the short end of a 14 to 6 score, but got organized in the second half to win 28 to 20 in a 6-man football game yesterday at Bloomdale.

LaRue opened the second quarter by scoring on a pass from Davis to Jones. Bloomdale came back with two touchdowns made on passes from Fessel to McHaffie and Fessel to Treese. Bloomdale converted on passes to McHaffie and C. Macia after the touchdowns.

This made the score at half time Bloomdale 14 LaRue 6 and was the first time in two years the Marion county boys had found themselves trailing in the score.

Davis opened the second half with a 60 yard run to pay dirt and drop kicked for two points tying the score. After holding the opponents, LaRue took the ball and on the second play Hodson ran 40 yards to put the Marion county leads in the lead.

Bloomdale came back to knot the count at the three-quarter station with a touchdown on a pass from Fessel to C. Macia. In the final quarter Davis carried the ball 30 yards to score. His drop kick on conversion added the last two points.

LaRue will close the season Nov. 9 with a home game with Elma.

ATOMIC POWER FIGHT LOOMS IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 — The house military committee has declined to impose congressional veto power on the foreign licensing authority of a proposed atomic energy commission. It became known today.

The committee's action made it likely the issue of cooperation with foreign interests and individuals in development of atomic energy will be fought out on the house floor.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) said the group expects to finish consideration of the legislation tomorrow. It has been writing the bill behind closed doors, with the aid of War Department experts.

Rejected by what was reported as a close vote was an amendment by Rep. Elston (R-Ohio) to require the approval of the President and congress before the commission could give or lend to any foreign government or person any property for atomic energy research and development.

The committee simply retained the original provision prohibiting the commission from taking any such action without approval of the President.

Elston and supporters contended congress should have veto power over any move the commission might make to release secrets of atomic energy to non-Americans. The Obama told reporters he would take the fight to the floor of the house.

The committee's action made it likely the issue of cooperation with foreign interests and individuals in development of atomic energy will be fought out on the house floor.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) said the group expects to finish consideration of the legislation tomorrow. It has been writing the bill behind closed doors, with the aid of War Department experts.

Rejected by what was reported as a close vote was an amendment by Rep. Elston (R-Ohio) to require the approval of the President and congress before the commission could give or lend to any foreign government or person any property for atomic energy research and development.

ADM. KARL DOENITZ

(One of a series of 24 articles)

By The Associated Press

Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, the last German ruler of Germany, was born Sept. 16, 1891, in Berlin. Immensely popular with the German people, never known as an ardent Nazi, his pride and joy in life were the murderous wolf-pack submarines whose crews he exhorted to "Kill! Kill! Kill! Have no humanity—humanity means weakness." He saw surface and submarine action in World War I and was captured by the British near Malta. . . . promoted from vice-admiral to admiral March 14, 1942. . . . named successor to Grand Admiral Raeder Jan. 30, 1943. . . . After the abortive plot on Hitler's life in July, 1944, Doenitz led the purge of the conspirators. . . . After the 1918 armistice Doenitz was confined to the Manchester, England, lunatic asylum, suffering what was thought to be feigned insanity, and later repatriated to Germany as insane. . . . In World War II when things looked black for Germany he preached that "no situation is ever hopeless."

COMEDIAN AWARDED BRONZE STAR MEDAL

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Comedian Joe E. Brown shed his laugh-provoking patter Wednesday night as the familiar role of star was thrust upon the movies' funny man at a testimonial dinner to Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe.

The bronze star medal, highest military award for a civilian, was pinned on Brown, who was master of ceremonies, after a surprise announcement of the honor, by Brig. Gen. E. B. Sebree, representing Gen. Jacob L. Devers, commanding general of the Army Ground Forces and formerly commander of the Sixth Army group in the European theater.

The medal was in recognition of the comedian's "meritorious achievements" in entertaining more than 100,000 American soldiers in North Africa, Sicily and Italy in 1944.

"You're seeing the raw edges of Joe E. Brown," the movie star said in response. "Brown, the comedian—but I don't feel funny now. I'm thinking of the thousands of men I knew that didn't come back and of the thousands who came back and don't find a medal waiting."

Seek Workers for Red Cross

Field Representatives Sought for Work in Home and Foreign Fields.

Opportunity to help out in the postwar adjustment period both at home and in foreign fields is offered by the American Red Cross, which is issuing an appeal for workers qualifying for employment in social service, Mrs. Malvina Klein, personnel field representative of Cleveland, said. Mrs. Klein has been in Marion this week in the interest of recruiting workers.

Men and women both are eligible for employment as field assistants in Army and Navy stations and in veterans' claims service, she said. Applicants may obtain detailed information regarding interviews, the work and qualifications by applying to the office of the Marion County Chapter of the Red Cross. Applicants qualifying will receive orientation and in-service training locally for the tasks they will be asked to perform. Workers are needed both in camps and hospitals in the states and overseas.

Men being discharged from service find the employment to their liking in many cases, and the Red Cross feels that they are in a position to do an understanding and thorough piece of work. Mrs. Klein said field assistants are responsible to the camp service or claims service by Utah inmates.

field director of the station but may be under the direct supervision of a designated assistant field director, especially when employed in a sub-office. Working under a close supervision, they will be assigned such general or specific duties as their qualifications warrant or as may be determined by the field director or assistant field director. Specific duties may include assisting service personnel with routine problems, filing applications for government benefits and supervising a small clerical staff engaged in routine office work.

Preference will be given to applicants between the ages of 25 and 45. Maturity and training will determine the minimum age at which applicants may meet all other requirements may be employed. Persons over 45 years of age generally are not accepted unless their qualifications are very outstanding.

Only camp service field assistants will be entitled to wear the American Red Cross professional uniform.

Wages for camp field assistant is $140 to $170 per month plus allowable quarters allowance and claims field assistant $170 to $200 with no quarters allowance. Overseas the salary is higher with full maintenance.

BY REV. M. E. TINSLER

O.N.U. Instructor Talks of Visit To Father Devine's Heaven.

"In Heaven and Harlem With Father Devine" was the subject of a talk given by Rev. Marion E. Tinsler, instructor of religion and philosophy at Ohio Northern University at Ada, in the weekly Thursday noon meeting of the Kiwanis club at Hotel Harding. Rev. Tinsler is also assistant in the president of the college.

In relating the highlights of a recent trip he made to New York with several pastors, he told of a visit to one of 22 "Heavens in Harlem" as they are called, one Sunday Services which were held in a three-story frame building with a seating capacity of 2,000 began at 5 p. m. and continued until 12 midnight. Women garbed in white robes served as ushers. Songs, hymns, and confessions filled the greater part of the program, until Father Devine, a short man, about five feet six inches tall, seated himself on a platform in an aisle at the front of the gathering place. As the group became aware that he was seated there they quivered and he dismissed them with a few brief words. Rev. Tinsler said the meeting place was packed to capacity.

In addition to Philip Guthery, former Kiwanian who was recently discharged from the Army and who attended the meeting, guests included Forest White of Cincinnati, O.; James Adams of Watertown, Conn.; George Hill and Louis Manner, both of Detroit, E. G. Ankrom of Norwalk, O.; Bruce Swanson of the Navy, G. F. Schwab of the U. S. Marine Corps, E. L. Holt and F. Howard Lawson.

P.T.A. at Prospect

Installs Officers

Newly elected officers of the Prospect P.T.A. were installed at a meeting last Thursday night in the Prospect school auditorium. Those taking office for the coming year were Mrs. Mildred McNeal, president; Mrs. Henrietta Smith, first vice president; Virgil Briegel, second vice president; Miss Doris McMillin, secretary; Mrs. Theima Dodrill, treasurer; Rev. Edgar Cunningham, pastor of the Prospect Evangelical and Reformed church conducted installation services.

The speaker was Dr. C. O. Matthews, head of visual education of the department of education at Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware. He was introduced by Mrs. W. G. Lechner.

Fifth grade students, under the direction of Mrs. Katherine Moore and second grade pupils under the supervision of Miss Esther Clark held the highest number of memberships acquired in a report of the recent P.T.A. membership drive, conducted by school children. The enrollment now stands at 445, the highest on the school record, it is believed. A party for the winners will be given by the group.

Vainwright Goes To Meet Foe

and roughly snatched the field glasses that were Pugh's neck.

Terms from Lieutenant

The Jap lieutenant confronting us identified himself as Uramura, and before I had a chance to speak he said in English:

"I will not accept your surrender unless it includes all the Jap and Filipino troops in the whole archipelago."

"I had no stomach for discussing surrender with a Jap."

"Do not choose to discuss surrender terms with you."

"Take me to the senior officer present on Corregidor."

While Lt. Uramura considered this, a Jap colonel walked up. He was not a commander of troops, but a staff officer of Gen. Masaharu Homma's headquarters or of the Jap command which had made the landing. He spoke no English. Through Uramura I told him that I was tendering the surrender of the four fortified islands at the mouth of Manila Bay. I mentioned other, and less-oppressed, Philippine forces. The Jap colonel looked at me sharply when Uramura relayed the message to him. He spoke an angry torrent of Japanese which, through Uramura, told me what I already knew—that Uramura wanted my surrender must include all forces in the entire Philippines.

Demands To See Homma

"In that case I will deal only with General Homma and with one of less rank," I replied. "I want an appointment with him. I have made repeated efforts to contact him by radio."

The Jap colonel then agreed to take me to Cabcaben, on Bataan, under the terms of the broadcast.

I had planned to use my own boat, which was anchored at the dock of Corregidor for protection against the shelling. It was now brought around the island to the north dock. I invited the Jap colonel to walk with me to the north dock to pick up my boat when it arrived, and he agreed. I asked Gen. Moore to return to the Tunnel to watch out for things until my return on Bataan, and then I turned to tell Johnny Pugh to accompany me and the Jap colonel.

But Pugh had already departed, bent upon seeing to it personally that the boat got from the south dock to the north dock, and also to see that I received some of my personal effects.

Pugh Travels Under Fire

Pugh's path back to the east entrance of the Tunnel became a path of a sudden and tremendous barrage of shelling. But by crouching and edging along with what little cover he could find, he made it—an act of striking heroism. In the Tunnel he was packed a few of my things, found Gen. Beebe and several others and with them headed for the south dock and my boat.

But the shelling which Pugh had survived caused the Jap colonel to stop in his tracks, for the road to the north dock lay through that same bombardment. The Jap refused to proceed further in fear of being killed by his own shells, and said so. It was his chance I had been waiting for.

"Why the Hell don't you people stop shooting?" I shouted at them. "I put up the white flag hours ago."

He crouched there, watching the shelling for a time. And then he turned to me and said, through his interpreter, "We have not accepted any surrender from you, as yet."

Jap Takes Another Path

He got up then and led us—Dooley myself and Uramura—away from the concentrated fire between us and the north dock. He took us to Corregidor's tiny airfield, in the vicinity of Cavalry Point, close to the landing beaches. The Japs were still debarking men and paused only long enough to stare truculently at Dooley and me.

The Jap colonel contacted Bataan by radio and ordered a Jap boat to come over and fetch us. We then walked down to Cavalry Point and waited.

It was nearly 4 o'clock by the time the Jap boat arrived for us. It was a 50-foot tank barge with a let-down front and mounted a 2½-inch gun. It had difficulty reaching the shoreline, so it put over a rubber raft. Two Jap sailors jumped into the water beside the raft and swam and pushed it to the beach. It took the four of us to the tank barge in two trips.

ed it to the beach. It took the four of us to the tank barge in two trips.

We shoved off for Bataan and Gen. Homma.

Meets Old Acquaintance

The first man I saw when the Jap assault boat nudged against the small dock at Cabcaben, on the late afternoon of that dismal May 6, was Maj. Bill Lawrence. Lawrence had been a First Sergeant of my regiment years before when I was colonel of the Third Cavalry, back in the States. With brief exception he had been with me ever since.

Bill's face brought back a rush of memories of the States, of memories of a time like this.

"Hello, General," he said, helping me out of the Jap boat. "I came over with General Beebe and Colonel Pugh. They couldn't find you at the north dock on The Rock, so they came ahead. They and Sergeant Carroll just took a Jap truck and went off to look for you, figuring you might have landed somewhere else."

The Jap colonel took back charge of things now. From several Jap officers at the Cabcaben dock he learned that I was to meet Homma at a home about three-quarters of a mile northeast of Cabcaben, up the main east coast road of Bataan.

The colonel ordered a car. Tom Dooley and I got in, followed by the colonel, Lieut. Uramura and Bill Lawrence. And in deep and reflective silence we were driven up the road, the same one which our II Corps had been ruthlessly driven in the final days of Bataan.

Long Walk for Homma

We arrived presently at a porch-circled and dingy white house, not far from the beach, and walked up on its porch. A few minutes later a truck drove up, carrying Beebe, Pugh, Carroll and a group of Jap soldiers. Beebe, Pugh and Carroll joined us on the porch, and the tense and silent wait for Homma began.

For the next hour we just stood there on the porch, growing more restless by the minute. It was a wait broken only by the arrival of a Jap soldier with some cold water, which all of us drank eagerly. We had not eaten for 24 hours.

After another period of waiting we were suddenly ordered to move off the porch and line up on the lawn in front of the steps. This was for the benefit of Jap newsmen and still-cameramen. They took our pictures over and over again for about 30 minutes.

We were still standing there when Homma arrived that evening.

(TOMORROW: Gen. Homma's threat to annihilate the men and women of Corregidor if Gen. Wainwright did not bring about the surrender of all forces in the Philippines.)

TAFT SCORES OPA'S TACTICS

Charges Bowles Puts Price Propaganda in Army Allotment Envelopes.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—The OPA came under sharp Republican fire yesterday for enclosing printed arguments on holding the price line in envelopes containing Army allotment checks.

Speaking to Price Administrator Chester Bowles at a senate banking committee hearing, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared:

"You are propagandizing for continuance of OPA. You are trying to stir up all the people of the United States against the business people."

Bowles replied the material merely said inflation is a bad thing.

Taft countered that the printed slips had no business in Army allotment envelopes.

Not in the Law
Senator Millikin (R-Colo.) remarked that the law setting up the Office of Price Administration doesn't say to put these arguments in military envelopes.

Taft buried this accusation. "The attitude of OPA today is that every business man is a crook until he proves otherwise—that if he is trying to make profits he is greedy."

Bowles termed this an "absolutely fantastic statement." Other senators, delving into postwar housing prices, heard an official estimate 3,200,000 American families will be forced to "double up" in living quarters by the end of next year.

Warms of Inflation

John D. Blandford Jr., National Housing administrator, supplied the estimate to a small business subcommittee, with an assertion that the pressure for housing threatens "an explosive and disastrous price inflation unless effective preventive measures are taken."

Blandford recommended that congress authorize the President to establish "reasonable controls" over the price of houses.

Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.), a member of the subcommittee who believes price ceilings will bring a gigantic black market, opposed this strongly.

Blandford asserted if the price of homes are allowed to rise further, there is a serious prospect of a buyers' strike.

Wherry declared that in itself was an argument against housing price controls. The very dread of a buyers' strike should keep prices down, he advised.

Blandford countered that such a reaction would come after lots of damage had been done.

Estimates that 475,000 housing units will be constructed next year are "very optimistic," Blandford said. The lumber situation is still quite tight, he added, and prospective builders are warned about a widening gap between building costs and income.

He estimated 12,000,000 new houses will be needed during the next 10 years.

dustrial concerns, each of which employs more than 100 persons. In setting the quotas the committee followed the plan designed by the United States treasury department, set up on the basis of average monthly employee earnings as follows:

Average individual earnings under $130, bond purchases $37.50; earnings $140 to $180, bond purchases $50.25; earnings $200 to $234, bond purchases $62.75; earnings of $235 or over, bond purchases of $131.25.

Members of the committee will contact the various industries before opening of the Victory loan drive Oct. 29 to acquaint them with the treasury's quota system and provide any other additional information needed.

Harold J. Grigby, chairman of the payroll savings committee, said today that any bonds purchased between Oct. 29 and Dec. 31 will be credited to the industrial quotas. This applies to bonds purchased through the regular payroll savings plan or bonds bought through additional purchases.

Attending the industrial quota meeting were J. G. Lytle, Carl E. Danner, J. D. Torrance, Wilfred Schweinfurth, Louis E. Michel, Mr. Grigby and Earl Andrews.

U. S. OUTLINES 1946 FARM AID PROGRAM

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The Agriculture Department has adopted a "grass roots" approach to speed the reconversion of the nation's farmland from war-time production to long-range soil-building and water conservation.

The 1946 program will give more responsibility to farmers, working through AAA county and community committees, in recommending conservation practices, and allotments of funds will be by counties.

W. E. Dodd, director of the field service branch of the production and marketing administration, said the 1946 program will provide about the same amount of assistance as 1945.

The 1946 program will provide assistance for these types of practices: (1) application of lime, fertilizer and other materials; (2) planting of cover crops; (3) harvesting of legume and grass seed; (4) erosion control and water conservation; (5) range and pasture improvement; (6) forestry; (7) other practices such as noxious weed control and clearing land for tillage and pasture.

DOUBLE DISTINCTION

BOSTON—Frank P. Sherman boasts the distinction of having one son who witnessed the German surrender and another who witnessed the Japanese surrender.

Let's Put "JOBS and PROGRESS" Across!

Say These

CIVIC LEADERS

You can vote "FOR" All 5 Bond Issues on November 6th and help keep Marion busy during the post-war era!

Passage of All 5 Bond Issues means JOBS for YOU, for your laid off war-working neighbor, for your returning soldier son! That's why thousands and thousands of Marion residents are going to march to the polls November 6th and mark their ballots "FOR" 5 times! It's the only neighborly, the only decent thing to do!

WM. J. SPICKERMAN, Pastor, St. Mary Church, says: "There is usually a diversion of opinion about Bond issues. The Latin had a phrase for it: 'Quot capital, tot sententiae.' In English, Alexander Pope phrased it: 'Men's judgments are like their watches. None goes just alike, yet each believes his own.' In voting on any issue, the voter ought to do an after careful study and make a decision on the issues involved. I believe that the proposed plan, if adopted by the voters, will improve conditions in Marion and will not be an unreasonable burden on taxpayers."

REV. H. M. MEADOW, President of the Marion County Ministerial Association, says: "Where there is vision there is progress. All five Bond issues need the support of every forward looking person in our community. To fail in this, our duty, would stultify the future of Marion and make our city an undesirable place in which to live."

WM. ISALY, President, Y's Men's Club, says: "Our club feels that the community of Marion will be greatly benefited by the proposed program and consequently intends to give its whole-hearted support to the 'Jobs and Progress' program."

HARRY LUTZ, President, Real Brith, says: "If we are to be fair to our boys and girls now growing up, we must provide every possible facility for their education, health, safety, comfort and convenience. I intend to vote 'FOR' the entire bond program, and I hope every citizen will do likewise."

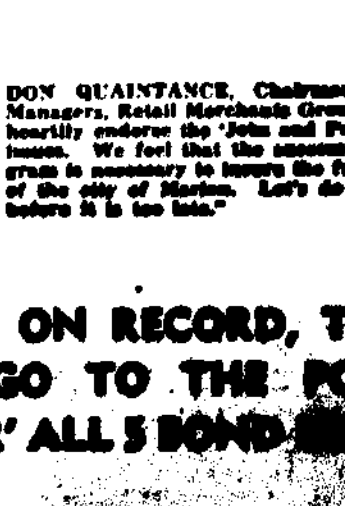

R. R. PRICHARD, President, Marion Real Estate Board, says: "America's secret weapon—Private Enterprise—can best be preserved by private initiative. Real Estate owners should vote FOR all 5 Bond issues. Let's maintain real estate values and keep America American. I earnestly urge every citizen of Marion to vote FOR all 5 Bond issues on November 6th."

CARROLL W. DAVIDSON, President, M.C.L.U., says: "It is a wise investment to help promote jobs, especially in face of a reconversion cut-back period, and the boys coming home that will need employment. The 'Jobs and Progress' program will take care of our local situation with very little individual cost. The Marion Central Labor Union—(A.F.L.) has endorsed this program. As an officer of that body and representative to the Civic Planning Group, I contend that the Bond issues should pass. Let's forget personalities and not try to tear the proposition apart. There may be parts that will suit some more than others, but for the good of all, we must be 'ONE FOR ALL.'"

MARION S. HINKLIN, chairman of the Marion County Republican Executive Committee, says: "These bond issues, if approved, will provide the means of creating thousands of post-war jobs for residents of Marion, besides giving our community many much needed improvements, which the War and the Depression have until now prevented us from making."

DON QUAINSTANCE, Chairman, Board of Managers, Retail Merchants Group, says: "We heartily endorse the 'Jobs and Progress' Bond issues. We feel that the success of this program is necessary to insure the future welfare of the city of Marion. Let's do something—before it is too late."

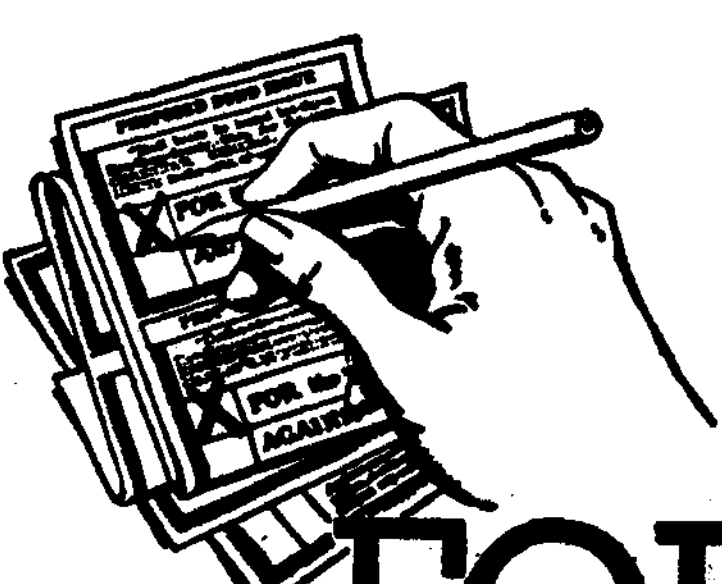

MARY F. SCHULER, President The Marion African Club, says: "One vote determined whether Marion or Columbus was the capital of Ohio. Your one vote may determine the future of Marion. The Marion African Club, believing that Marion should have a grand future, heartily endorses all the projects of the 'Jobs and Progress' program. Marion can step backward to a village or grow into a thriving, prosperous industrial city. We endorse 'Jobs and Progress' as a major step toward a real future."

ELIAS H. OILER, President, Marion Industrial Council (C.I.O.), says: "The Marion Industrial Council (C.I.O.) urges that all voters mark their ballots 'FOR' the city, and attach bond issues at the election November 6th... The community owes it to the returning servicemen that they should not come back to a city of unemployment."

C. WILLIAM ROBERTS, Chairman of the Democratic Club, says: "Our confidence in the future is supported by the feeling that these Bond issues will surely pass; but think of the atmosphere of gloom that will descend on our community if they do not. We will then be unprepared for the post-war emergency that will arise. We must, therefore, not allow the Bond issues to fall of a 60 per cent majority; we must see that they pass."

PUT YOURSELF ON RECORD, TOO! BE SURE TO GO TO THE POLLS AND VOTE 'FOR' ALL 5 BOND ISSUES
